

Vianca McCluskey Biography

On October 1, 2018, Vianca McCluskey joined the Florida Department of Health-Osceola as the County Health Department Administrator. She has more than 15 years' experience in public health and Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC). Vianca received her B.S. in Health Care Management and M.S. in Public and Community Health from Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tennessee.

Vianca's public health career started in 2001 at the Tennessee Department of Health's Mid-Cumberland Regional Health Office where she provided data and support to Community Health Councils addressing identified health issues. She was promoted in 2004 to the position of Public Health County Director for the Stewart County Health Department in Dover, TN which operated an FQHC and Veteran's Clinic. She later transferred to her home county to assume leadership of the Montgomery County Health Department in Clarksville, TN.

Vianca relocated to Florida in 2009 for a position with the Osceola County Health Department as the Executive Director of their FQHC. She served on the senior leadership team, managed the federal grant and was responsible for overall operations of health centers. She accepted a leadership position with Community Health Centers, Inc in 2012 where she focused on developing new processes and initiatives to improve health center operations.

Vianca is excited to return to the Florida Department of Health and lead the team of dedicated professionals at the Osceola County Health Department.
